We are delighted to announce that you can dial-in from your phone to listen to Mount Olivet's 11am worship service at the Mpls campus each Sunday. Just call the following number Sunday morning at 11am: 833.775.1238. Or, if you prefer, you can call earlier in the week and receive a call-back at 11am on Sunday as the service is beginning.

Christmas Anticipation

It's easy to forget just how long the Jewish people had been waiting for a Messiah by the time Jesus was born. King David, whose heir was promised to restore Israel, governed around 1000 BC. The passages from Isaiah that we will be reading this Advent – “for unto us a child is born” and “look, the maiden is with child and will give birth” – date to the mid 700s BC. Which means that the gap between the prophetic promises and Jesus' birth is longer than the entire history of the United States... three times over!

Which might help us appreciate why people had so many varied expectations of what the messiah would be and do. Some were looking for a military leader, like King David, to throw out the Romans and restore the fortunes of Israel. Others imagined a prophet like those of old who would announce God's words of law and promise. Others still looked for someone who would inaugurate the end times, the day of God's ultimate judgment and consummation. Suffice it to say, however, that no one expected God's messiah to come in the form of a helpless infant, born to poor parents in a backwater town. Yet we confess that in that child, God became truly Emmanuel – “one of us” – offering grace and redemption to all.

Christmas is a time when our lives are also often colored by anticipation. Perhaps we are looking forward to gathering with family. Or maybe we're longing to see someone we haven't seen for a while. Perhaps we can't wait for our favorite cookies, meals, and Christmas movies. Or maybe we just anticipate a brief respite from the hectic pace of our lives, a chance to be renewed by the sights and sounds of the season. Or... and the list goes on.

Sometimes what we anticipate is a cause not only for joy but also for a measure of anxiety. Perhaps we're worried that our family gathering will be marred by the disputes and disagreements that seem too frequently present today. Or we are anxious about how we will celebrate this first Christmas after the loss of a family member or end of an important relationship. Perhaps we're worried that our visits will be shortened and time together overshadowed by the lingering pandemic. Or... this list, unfortunately, also goes on.

But wherever we are, whatever we are anticipating, whatever hopes or joys or fears or concerns we may bring, God enters into them with us. That is what the birth of the Christ child means. God knows what it's like to be human. God understands us and accepts us as we are. God walks with us and promises to never abandon us.

One of my favorite carols of the season is O Little Town of Bethlehem, written by Episcopal priest Philip Brooks in 1868. It is based, in part, on Matthew's telling of the Christmas story where he quotes words from the prophet Micah. The first verse is probably familiar:

*Oh little town of Bethlehem, how still we see thee lie.
Above thy deep and dreamless sleep, the silent stars go by;
Yet in thy dark streets shineth the everlasting light.
The hopes and fears of all the years are met in thee tonight.*

There is room at Christmas, Brooks reminds us, for both our hopes and fears, for darkness and light, because in this infant child God has come to redeem all of us, good and bad, hopeful or anxious, faithful or erring.

The third verse of this beloved hymn also holds an important reminder and promise:

*How silently, how silently the wondrous gift is giv'n!
So God imparts to human hearts the blessings of his heav'n.
No ear may hear his coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive him, still the dear Christ enters in.*

This gift is given both silently and mysteriously. Many missed it then, and it's easy to miss it still. So this Christmas, I pray that you would take time to look and listen and open your hearts to receiving the gift of the Christ Child. I'm not asking that you surrender all that you anticipate – whether joyful or fearful – but rather that, amid these things, hear God once again promise that God understands you, accepts you, and loves you. For unto a child has been born, and in this child God is still giving us the blessings of heaven!

Blessed Advent and Christmas!

We asked our Pastors to share thier favorite Christmas Cookies with us! The recipes to these beloved Christmas cookies are available at mtolivet.org/christmas. We hope they will fill your kitchen with joy and warmth this season!

PASTOR LOSE, SENIOR PASTOR

While not a “classic” Christmas cookie, Peanut Butter Cup Cookies were only at my house at Christmas and have become a favorite. Funny story: during our first year of marriage, my wife, who had heard me talk about these cookies but never seen them, wanted to surprise me. Not much of a candy person herself, she didn’t know miniature peanut butter cups existed, so she used full-sized cups and made a batch of gargantuan – and yummy – cookies!

PASTOR KALLAND

Swedish Cream Wafers are one of my favorite Christmas cookies. I enjoyed these for many reasons. Besides the taste of these cookies, the smell of the house while my mom was making them filled more than just my lungs, it also filled my heart. Knowing that my mom made them with love made them taste even better. At times it was extremely difficult not to eat many in a row!

PASTOR HAMMERSTEN

I wish you could’ve met my grandma. She was the most beautiful person I’ve known. So filled with love and warmth and encouragement and hospitality. Driving up the big long driveway to her home filled us all with excitement and anticipation of the warm embrace that awaited us, the crackling fire in the hearth, and the tables laden with homemade pies and rolls and cookies. The milkman never even minded all the butter and cream he carried up that hill because there was always a cup of coffee and something sweet waiting when he got there. These Sugar Cookies were our favorite at Christmas time. Not as fancy as all the Lefse, Krumkake, and Sandbakkels on the tables, and that suited us kids just fine.

PASTOR MACLEAN

My favorite Christmas cookie is a Peanut Blossom. Actually, not just one, but several! Our recipe comes from my wife's grandmother and has been a family favorite for well over 40 years. And there's nothing better than eating them as they come out of the oven!

PASTOR RUUD

My mother's Spritz Cookies are probably my dearest and most favorite. I remember making them with her and getting to decorate them in any way I chose as a kid. Fresh out of the oven a serving size seemed to be half the pan. I've also come to learn that my mouth starts drooling whenever I encounter the Ginger Snaps made by our very own Mount Olivet Director of Culinary Services, Sally McNamee. I'm a Ginger Snap fiend as it is. Sally's are phenomenal. They seem to make a appearance often at Mount Olivet events this time of year. Those cookies preach! Thank you, Sally and Team!

PASTOR DIXON

My favorite Christmas cookie is the Spritz. We've been making and decorating Spritzes in my family for at least five generations. Every year, I make hundreds and hand them out to neighbors and friends. Now my kids are starting to make their own trays! I love this tradition, because it's teaching them (and reminding me) that Christmas is a time to be joyful in giving. The recipe is a family secret (that my great-grandmother probably got off of a package). But I will share one tip: take the butter out of the fridge the night before. Ready, set, bake!

PASTOR FREEMAN

Why are Melting Moments my favorite Christmas cookie? I grew up in a family that pretty much lived by the adage, "A balanced diet is a cookie in each hand," so it's difficult to choose a favorite. The internet says that Christmas cookies can describe your personality. Melting Moments aren't listed, but one might say sugar cookies could be their cousins. According to this source, my cookie choice lists me as a risk-averse crowd-pleaser. Who knew? Merry Christmas, everyone!

LIVING THE MESSAGE

EVERYTHING
YOU EVER
WANTED TO KNOW ABOUT
THE NEW TESTAMENT

Jesus Is Risen! Now What? Acts of the Apostles

Jesus was born, lived, revealed the Kingdom of God in word and deed, died, was buried, and in three days rose from the grave, appeared to his disciples, and ascended into heaven. Then what? What did his disciples do next? How did people continue to gather as followers of Jesus' way? How did this whole Christian church thing take off?

The January Living The Message session will focus on wrestling and learning about those questions with a dive into the book of the Acts of the Apostles. Arguably one of the most important, influential, and exciting books of the Bible in hearing how God's Holy Spirit is revealed, Acts describes how the Spirit of Christ led and in fact drove the early believers to share the good news of God's love for all people. In it, we learn of the ministry of Peter and Paul, the establishment of new communities of faith in Christ, and how God was often even out ahead of the disciples revealing the astoundingly extravagant, ever-expanding nature of the message of Jesus' love for the whole world.

Tune in this January (in-person or via video--it's not too late to join this study!) to be driven with the disciples of Christ in God's mission to the world in Acts! We might also ask the question, where or to or for whom is God's Spirit still out ahead of us today, inviting and driving us to share and enact the abundance of God's grace for us today? You won't want to miss it! —PASTOR RUUD

DECEMBER 7: What About John? John, the Maverick Gospel with Pastor Lose
JANUARY 4: Jesus Is Risen! Now What? Acts of the Apostles

SUMMER 2022 PREVIEW

The weather may be chilly outside, but the Children & Family Ministry team is heating up our plans for Summer 2022! We will continue to provide the high-quality programming you have come to expect from Mount Olivet, such as God's Kids Sing and Vacation Bible School, with new options available throughout the summer. We are excited to be partnering with the Mount Olivet Conference and Retreat Center to develop a nature-based day camp to facilitate exploration and appreciation for God's creation. We will also be growing our day camp programming for elementary aged children out of the Minneapolis campus to serve the care needs of our community while having lots of fun with crafts, games, music, movement and offsite field trips.

More information is to come regarding summer programming including camp descriptions and registration information January 2022!

Experienced and beginner crafters are invited to Mount Olivet Conference & Retreat Center for a weekend of uninterrupted crafting. We provide the beautiful space and you bring your craft projects! The retreat is self-directed – the weekend is your own! Work on your crafting, meet other crafters, enjoy home cooked meals from our kitchen, and relax and unwind with a peaceful walk in the woods or a dip in the whirlpool.

Cost includes crafting space with electrical outlet, overnight accommodations, six meals, use of all amenities and tax.

When you register you will choose the dates you would like to attend the retreat (Dec. 9-11, or Dec. 10-12) and the type of overnight accommodation: single, double, or dorm.

WOMEN'S WEEKEND: THE GIFTS OF FRIENDSHIP

Friday, January 28 through
Sunday, January 30

At the end of his life, Jesus said to his disciples, "I do not call you servants any longer... but I have called you friends." Together we will explore Biblical stories about friendship with God, friendship with one another, and friendship with all God's creatures. Come share the gifts of friendship and be inspired to deepen and expand your friendships during and after our time away together. Spend time walking in the woods, relaxing in the whirlpool, scheduling a massage (extra cost), or quietly meditating. Led by Pastor Monica Hammersten, Pastor Rebecca Wold Freeman, and Retreat Center Director Rev. Theresa Latini.

Register at mtolivet.org for single occupancy, double occupancy, or dormitory occupancy.
